

Is your child having difficulty learning to talk?

We are a well-rounded team of Speech-Language Pathologists and Communication Disorders Assistants, who work with preschool and school-aged children to improve their speech and language skills.

We help children:

- learn to talk
- use grammatical sentences
- speak clearly
- read
- improve social skills
- and more!

Speech: refers to pronunciation and the sounds that make up words

Language: refers to understanding and expressing thoughts and ideas, and includes, grammar, asking and answering questions, telling stories

Speech and language problems are surprisingly common in children.

About Our Services

Benefits of early identification of speech/language disorders

- significantly help your child better communicate with others
- reduces frustration and aggressive behavior
- develops important language skills necessary for reading
- helps get children ready for school by improving learning skills and attention

An assessment is an important first step!

We offer in-person and online services.

Therapy activities are play-based and include a variety of age-appropriate activities including:

- games
- toys
- crafts
- snacks
- cooking
- music
- and more!

MEGGAN LEVSON
Speech-Language Pathologist

630 Colborne Street, Unit 103,
London ON, N6B 2V2
(T) 226-456-TALK (8255)
(F) 519-642-0600
info@helpingchildrentalk.ca
www.helpingchildrentalk.ca